To Whom It May Concern,

We are incredibly grateful with Queens Together organization. They have been a great resource and support to our Small Business.

During COVID-19 they connected us with food pantries areas mostly affected providing exposure and revenue during struggling times. Additionally, last year a short film with Devin Klos's titled "Queens Together at the Eternal Flame" (2021), featured local restaurant owner including La Adelita where we gather at Socrates Sculpture Park to participate in a celebration of food and art, anchored by artist Paul Ramirez Jonas's Eternal Flame.

The online event served as a fundraiser for Queens Together, which represented restaurants, food businesses, and communities in our diverse borough. Funds raised went towards food distribution via Zone126, another local nonprofit serving Astoria and Long Island City families in need.

Queens Together, has been the organization that guided our restaurant with the needed resources and updates of all new mandates in New York City.

Jonathan Forgash has been a true leader and we are more than happy to stand behind Queens Together they have been true example of saving small business.

If any additional, information is needed. Please do not hesitate to the contact information provided.

Thank you.
